BAILEY SOUTHWELL & CO. EXPANDS INVESTMENT BANKING TEAM WITH HIRING OF RICHARD JACQUES

NASHVILLE, TN – (March 14, 2019) – Bailey Southwell & Co. (“Bailey Southwell” or “BSC”), a Nashville-headquartered healthcare and tech-enabled services investment bank, is pleased to announce that Richard Jacques recently joined the firm as Vice President and will focus on the healthcare services sector.

“Similar to others at BSC, Richard brings a unique perspective and extensive healthcare industry expertise to our growing firm as he has spent the past eight years leading acquisitions for an operator of physician practices and ambulatory surgery centers,” commented Stephen Scott, Managing Director at Bailey Southwell. “His past success in deal structuring and execution will be valuable to our clients as we continue to provide a high touch, client-focused offering for healthcare services companies.”

Prior to joining BSC, Richard was the Vice President of Development at Covenant Surgical Partners, a physician services company backed by Kohlberg Kravis Roberts (KKR) that operates a variety of healthcare facilities including ambulatory surgery centers, anesthesia companies, and physician practices, where he was responsible for leading its acquisition strategy.

“I am thrilled to join a high-growth firm with deep healthcare sector expertise that places extraordinary care and focus on the successful outcomes of its clients,” Richard said.

Richard is a graduate of Furman University and Vanderbilt University Law School. He is also an active member of the Phoenix Club of Nashville, an organization looking for ways to make a positive impact on the lives of underserved youth in middle-Tennessee and is a current Board member of the Nashville Ballet Foundation.
